Waving Death: The Protagonists

Phoebe Calloway - main character, UK Border Agency officer

Captain Manuel Rodriguez - commander of the “Blues”, taking ‘cargo’ to the Isle of Wight

Alec Bainbridge - shipyard owner, old friend of Phoebe’s father, in love with Zoe

Maura Bainbridge - Alec’s second wife, alcoholic

Jordan Bainbridge - engineer, son of Alec, Phoebes boyfriend when they were teenagers; works in his father’s shipyard

Trent Bainbridge - Alec’s younger son, was addicted to drugs, works for his father’s shipyard

Director David Sims - Phoebe’s boss at the UK Border Agency

Zoe Allan - dinner guest, ‘overner’, owner of a shipping company, in love with Alec

Ethan Saunders - dinner guest, shipyard owner, Alec’s competitor

Inspector Malcolm Burrows - police officer investigating Maura’s death

Constable Gregory Quinn - police officer investigating Maura’s death

Waving Death,
p. 349 - 356

1. Who was the last person to see Maura alive, and under what circumstances?

2. Ex. 11, p. 350

3. Why does Inspector Burrows consider that Maura's death might have been an accident?

4. What kind of evidence does the constable present?

5. Ex. 12, p. 353

6. What prevents Phoebe from telling the police officers about her assignment as an undercover agent for the border force?

7. Ex. 13, p. 355