Troublesome Translations (page 17)

Big or great?

1. We all considered the party to be a great success.

2. She was on ly two years old, but she was big for her age.

3. Anna reassured me that it was no big deal.

4. Thanks for helping out today. You're doing a great job!

High or tall?

1. The light switch is too high for a child to use.

2. Sally is very tall and slim – she could get a job as a model!

3. You know that very tall, white building just where the motorway begins – that's where I work.

4. We climbed the highest mountain in the country in just under six hours. That's quite a feat!